

Ann Liguori's Hamptons Rope Collection by Dune Jewelry, featuring sand from your favorite golf course or beach, expanding collection

(Westhampton, New York – November 18, 2019) -- Ann Liguori, renowned sports talk show host, golf correspondent, business-woman and co-collaborator of Dune Jewelry's Hamptons Rope Collection with Holly Daniels Christensen, the CEO & Founder of Dune Jewelry, announces the expansion of the Hamptons Rope Collection. This collection, consisting of sophisticated, handcrafted, sterling silver designs has recently expanded from six designs to twelve. The additional designs include a bracelet, earrings, and necklace in sterling silver and in 18k vermeil.

All Dune Jewelry designs can be customized with a sentimental element or sand from one's favorite golf course, beach or travel adventure. The sand can either be selected from Dune's vast Sandbank™ you can view online (www.dunejewelry.com/sand-and-elements) or you also have the option to send in your own memory for your own custom design.

"With the success of our original Hamptons Rope designs, it only made sense to continue adding to our array of experiential jewelry using Ann's vision as our guide," says Holly Daniels Christensen, Founder & CEO of Dune Jewelry. "Her refined style is everything this collection embodies and we are thrilled to add-on to this beautiful collection."

Ann has also collaborated on the Dune Golf Collection (dunejewelry.com/collections/golf-jewelry-accessories) which features ball markers, divot repair tools, tie bars, cufflinks, key chain, wine stopper and more! Every design is handmade to order in the USA and most can be engraved with a meaningful message.

Liguori, who has lived on the East End of Long Island since the mid-nineties, knew how to match the sophistication and beauty of the East End of Long Island into a jewelry collection. "Holly asked me what I love about The Hamptons and what kind of jewelry I fancy," explained Liguori. "When I described the beautiful area and the inspirational natural surroundings, the prestigious golf courses and the scenic waterways, Holly came up with designs that perfectly reflect this breath-taking area. Each piece has roping around the circumference, giving it a nautical feel. The sand or natural element is featured in the circular center of each piece. You'll fall in love with the designs the moment you see them! And it's a great way to savor the memory of something very special."
