LIGUORI WINS 2014 HEATHROW WOMEN'S MEMBER-GUEST TOURNAMENT

ORLANDO, FLORIDA - March 21, 2014. Radio & television sport's personality Ann Liguori, Ambassador for North Orlando's Heathrow Country Club and The Legacy Club at Alaqua Lakes, recently won the women's Member-Guest tournament at Heathrow Country Club. In addition to being an Ambassador, Liguori is also an active member of both Heathrow Country Club and The Legacy Club at Alaqua Lakes.

Liguori and her guest Jane Imperiale, from Lakewood Ranch Golf & Country Club, outlasted defending champions Debby Vangrov and Joy Clark, having to play the 18th hole three times in a play-off before finally closing out the championship.

Liguori covers golf for CBS Sports Radio Network & WFAN New York and hosts the weekly 'Sports Innerview with Ann Liguori' radio show on NPR affiliate WPPB 88.3 FM in New York & Connecticut and globally on www.peconicpublicbroadcasting.org.

Ann recently won 'First Place' in the International Network of Golf (ING) Radio competition for her 'Sports Innerview' wrap-up show on the U.S. Women's Open at Sebonack Golf Club in Southampton, N.Y. She heads to Augusta to cover the Masters for CBS Sports Radio Network and WFAN-N.Y. in April.

Imperiale is a freelance golf travel writer and organizes various golf tournaments in the United States, Ireland and Scotland.

"The staff at Heathrow Country Club and tournament co-chairs Meigan Putnam and Kim Stepp ran a first-class event," says Liguori, who was playing in her first Member-Guest tournament at Heathrow. She went on to say that, "I'm thrilled to be a new member of these two fine golf properties. Director of Operations, Nate Kalb and Director of Golf, Tim Burns and the entire team at Heathrow do impressive work, making Heathrow Country Club such a hospitable, wonderful place!"

About Heathrow Country Club

As the centerpiece of one of the best-known golf-course communities in Central Florida, Heathrow Country Club is part of the Concert Golf Partners group. The Club has a challenging 18 hole golf course, premier racquet club, 6 lane swimming pool, athletic center and an award winning dining and Grand Ballroom.

The championship golf course was designed by award winning architect Ron Garl, and is currently home to current and former PGA and Senior PGA Tour players including, Chris DiMarco, Cliff Kresge, Danny Ellis, Jim Thorpe, Donnie Hammond, Lion Kim and Fulton Allem.
